OFFICIAL.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 28, 1856.
Notice is hereby given to the holders of the stock issued pursuant to the act of Congress of 29th July, 1854, that such stock is redeemable by its terms, and will be paid at the Treasury on the surrender of the certificates thereof, on the 12th of November next, when interest thereon will cease.

This department will continue to purchase such stock prior to said day of redemption, and will pay therefor the following premium, in addition to the interest accrued to the day of purchase, with one day's interest for the money to reach the vendor:

On such stock received at the Treasury between the 1st day of June and the 31st day of July, inclusive, one-half of one per cent. on the amounts specified in the certificates;

On such stock received between the 1st and 31st days of August, one-fourth of one per cent.;

On such stock received after the 31st day of August, the interest accrued thereon, and one day's additional interest only will be paid.

Certificates of such stock transmitted under this notice must be duly assigned to the United States by the party entitled to receive the purchase money; and when sent prior to the 1st July the current half-year's interest must also be assigned by the present stockholder, otherwise such interest will be payable as heretofore.

And notice is further given to holders of other stocks of the United States that this department will purchase the same between the 1st day of June and the 1st day of December next, unless the sum of $1,500,000 shall be previously obtained, and will pay for the same, in addition to the interest accrued from the day of the last dividend of interest, and one day's additional interest for the money to reach the vendor, the following rates of premium:

On stock of the loan of 1842, a premium of 10 per cent.;

On stock of the loans of 1847 and 1848 a premium of 10 per cent.;

And on stock issued under the act of 9th September, 1850, commonly called Texan indemnity stock, a premium of 6 per cent.

Certificates transmitted under this notice should be duly assigned to the United States by the party entitled to receive the money; and if sent previous to the 1st July, the current half-year's interest must also be assigned by the present stockholder, otherwise the interest for the half year to that day will be payable to him as heretofore.

Payment for all the foregoing stocks will be made by drafts on the assistant treasurers at Boston, New York, or Philadelphia, as the parties entitled to receive the money may direct.

JAMES GUTHRIE,
Secretary of the Treasury.

ern men. So long as the subject of Slavery is agitated in the country, we may expect that a few in every Church will, sooner or later, seek to agitate it in the judicatories of the Church. No Church in the land can be exempted from it. We believe that our Church, in this respect, occupies as safe a position as any other branch of the Church in this country. We are persuaded that there are but few who desire the introduction of the Slavery question into the Church. This is evident from the fact that the average number of members on the subject sent to the Assembly for the last eight or ten years has not been more than a half a dozen, notwithstanding we have 108 Presbyteries, and although the country has been shaken to its centre by this agitation.

We would, therefore, say to our brethren in the slaveholding States, let us unitedly stand by our beloved Church in all its interests. Let there be no alienations or discen-sions amongst us. Let no one imagine that by changing his ecclesiastical connections he can get rid of this agitation entirely in the Church judicatories. In some churches it may be suppressed for a brief period. But it cannot be so always. These very churches, where the subject has not been particularly discussed for a few years, have given the strongest testimony against the system of slavery. And the most superficial acquaintance with them will satisfy any candid man that they entertain the same views, and are constantly liable to the introduction of the subject into their judicatories. We believe that the introduction of the subject into the judicatories of our membership does no further discussion of the subject—and that we now lay aside all apprehensions as to any necessity for a separation on our part. If the Assembly should hereafter take any steps towards the exercise of discipline on account of slaveholding—further at least than the decision of a judicial case brought from a lower court—it is in deciding upon it that it should conclude that the relation of master and servant, in any case, is an offence, we shall unitedly dissolve our connection with that body. We shall not join any other branch of the Church that has a Northern connection, and where we should be constantly liable to the necessity of another separation. But we shall remain in the Southern organization, and devote our energies to the great work of dif-ferencing the principles of our common Christianity throughout the region where God has cast our lot. At present, however, we repeat, there is no necessity for pursuing such a course, nor do we anticipate that it will ever occur. We belong to a branch of the Church whose distinguishing principles are worthy of our admirations, and grant that we may ever continue a united people, with a noble and the Constitution as the basis of all our conduct, and laboring for the good of our common country and the entire family of man.

BURIED TREASURES.—"Ensebius" writes to the

New York Observer from Rome, as follows:

The Tiber is not only rich in historic associations, it is rich in treasure. An English company has actually offered to turn the current of the stream far above the city and around it, provided the government would give them what they might discover in its present bed. This would be attended with a vast expense, but would pay. Treasures of art from age to age have found their way into the stream, which would bring in the market a perfect remuneration. In the museum of St.

John Lateran, a magnificent column of stone is lying, which was taken not long since from the Tiber, a portion of which has been polished to display its beauty, and no one can see it without wishing to have more of the secret of this river revealed. The Tiber is a very fine and perhaps more beautiful than any of the ancient works of art now seen in Rome, imbedded in groups beneath the stream.

Agostino Chigi, the famous banker at the time of Leo X, once gave a splendid entertainment to the Pope and his Cardinals, at which the dishes were all precious metals. The price paid for three fish was 250 crowns. It is said the dishes were all thrown into the Tiber by order of the rich banker, in order that the illustrious guest might ever use them. The sacred vessels brought from Jerusalem by Titus, among them the golden candlestick, are reported to have been found in the Milvian bridge, and if so, are still lying there. The present government of Rome will suffer nothing, which would pay. Treasures of art

perfect remuneration. In the museum of St.
